What did you hear in this story differently this time?

Put yourself in the place of the Samaritan woman,

In what ways do you allow your day-to-day life to keep you from the deeper things God has for you?

In what ways does your conditions of your birth (status, disease, parents, etc.) keep you from Jesus?

In what ways do your sins keep you from him?

In what ways do your disappointments and pain keep you from him?

Followers of Jesus were first called “Christians” because we were being called “little Christs.” Although it was meant as a negative name, it is an accurate description. We do what he did. So, who is your Samaritan woman? Who might be as completely opposite as you that God wants to reach and wants to reach through you?
