What do you think of the Vance Havner quote Rob shared:

"The tragedy of our time is that the situation is desperate, but the saints are not."

How desperate are you?

What are you desperate for?

How desperate should you be for Jesus?

How much are you willing to humble yourself in your desperation for him?

How far will you go in your desperation for him?

How much will you persist in your desperation for him?

How much will you trust him?
