

Questions for Conversations

010525

Take a few moments to discuss your relatives. Who might others be surprised that you are related to? If this doesn't get the conversation going, who is the most famous (or in some way important) person you have ever met? Or, who do you wish you could meet and why (you can't say Bible characters).

What family (families) has God put me in?

What does each family member need that only I can give them?

To whom is God asking you to put first?

For whom is God asking you to take responsibility?

Whom is God wanting you to protect? What does that protection look like?

What can you do to listen to, trust in, and obey God more fully this week?

How might you step up your commitment to the family? What might that look like in very tangible ways?
